

Cargo Insurance

Cargo refers to goods transported by aircraft, ship, train or motor truck. The purpose of the marine cargo insurance is to cover the loss or damages that may result during transportation between points of origin and final destination.

Working together with major insurance carriers, we at Mariners General Insurance Group can help determine the coverage that is right for you. Whether you are buying a single policy or an annual insurance program, we can assist you with obtaining coverage at extremely competitive premiums for all your import and export cargo needs.
